A Place For Young Men.

Club House For John Rockefeller's Bible Class.

New York, Oct. 22.—The club house which John D. Rockefeller Jr., is to present to the Bible class in the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, of which he is the leader, is to be ready for occupancy November 1.

The building is a four-story brownstone front located at No. 15 West Forty-fifth street.

It is Mr. Rockefeller's intention to make the club house a home for the young men of his class. The library and reading rooms will be among the most important features of the institution. The gymnasium will be located on the top floor.

The introduction of the club idea as a part of religious work was suggested to Mr. Rockefeller by the somewhat unusual lines upon which the Fifth Avenue Baptist church has conducted its labors among young men. Through various religious publications and letters to clergymen in other towns the church has made it known to the young men throughout the country that in the event of their coming to New York they would find friends at the church building on Forty-sixth street.

Mr. Rockefeller is having the club house prepared, with a view to the entertainment of visitors.

I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. MAN

To Handle Giant Combination.

He Would be Hard to Find.

Chas. R. Flint Speaks of World-Wide Trust.

The Trouble Is to Find Men of Capacity.

Chas. R. Flint, one of the promoters of the proposed greater combination of rubber interests, was recently before the United States Industrial Commission for examination regarding great industrial combinations. In answer to a question regarding a "world-wide combination in the rubber industry, Mr. Flint replied:

"I do not think such an idea is practicable. Today the limit of these combinations is the finding of men of sufficient capacity to handle such an extended business; and I do not think that such a combination is within the range of possibilities. If such a combination existed, it would be immaterial as to whether there was a tariff or not so far as that industry was concerned. However, it would be material to the labor interests of the country."

More than ever before will automobile shows be in vogue the coming winter. Fire manufacturers will have exhibits at most of them and Akron will be represented. In this and other ways is Akron constantly advertised.

The Pennsylvania Rubber Co., at Erie, managed by former Akronians, won a gold medal on its tire exhibit at the Pan-American Exposition.

"Qui n'a sante n'a rien." A French proverb, so long as men will outlive the laws of health, so long they will need medicine to counteract the results of vice and ignorance. The old monks, whose aim it was to save men, soul and body, did a humane thing when they ransacked the vegetable kingdom for a blood purifier. They began at the fountain head, to prevent disease, rather than to cure. "St. Bernard Vegetable Pills" have immortalized them in the hearts of suffering humanity.

NOTED SLEUTH

Fatally Shot by a Criminal.

His Assailant Is a Notorious Pickpocket.

Cincinnati, Oct. 22.—(Spl.)—Early Monday morning Detective Cal. Cram was shot through the body and fatally wounded by Danny Foley, a notorious pickpocket, whom he was trying to capture. As Cram seized the criminal from behind, Foley turned, placed his pistol on the body of Cram and fired twice. Foley was captured later by two policemen, whom he kept at bay till they fired two shots at him and then grappled with him. Foley is in jail and Cram is dying in a hospital. Cram made national reputation in his work in the Pearl Bryan murder case.

END IN SIGHT.

Akron Route Will be Abandoned Before Long.

The "Akron Route" will not exist any longer than the Pan-American trade will warrant it. This has been decided on by the railroads interested in the route of travel, against all the reports that had been circulated to the contrary. It was at first determined to keep at least one of the trains on the line after the fair was observed and make the Akron route permanent, but the latest decision is to abandon it all.

The Erie and the C. & A. C. have connections at Akron, so that any through traffic in the direction of Chataqua may be taken care of and it is believed to be policy to do away with the regular trains as soon as the trade decreases further.

Tot Causes Night Alarm.

"One night my brother's baby was taken with croup," writes Mrs. J. C. Snider of Crittenden, Ky. "It seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor, so we gave it Dr. King's New Discovery, which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect our children from croup and whooping cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchial trouble that no other remedy would relieve." Infallible for coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles, 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at all druggists.

AFTER NEW CASTLE LINES.

Everett Syndicate Negotiating For Another Property.

It is the prevailing feeling among men who are acquainted with the electric railway situation that the Everett-Moore interests will soon control the Mahoning Valley, the Struthers & Lowellville and the New Castle Traction company's lines, says the New Castle News. Meanwhile there is a quiet effort being made to get farther down the river so as to connect with the Beaver valley lines.

There is every indication that the Everett-Moore syndicate is the prospective purchaser of the New Castle Traction company's system. There are also reasons to believe that the Everett-Moore people are building the New Castle & Lowellville and the Lowellville & Struthers electric railway lines.

MAYOR

Couldn't Wait For His Turn.

Had to Leave Council Without Speaking.

Some New Rules Governing the Body.

All Point Toward Easier Order During Meetings.

The uncertainty of the City Council was never more apparent than it was Monday night. The lobbies were filled with people prepared to accept most anything—from the cutting down of the Police and Fire departments to the appointment of a commission to plan a new form of government for the city, but none other than ordinary affairs were touched. Perhaps the nearest approach to doing something remarkable was the movement started by Mr. Gauthier and backed by Mr. Seidell toward an ordinance calling on the Council to meet once a week.

This movement was unpopular and speedily passed from consideration. Mayor Doyle, true to his word, was on hand prepared to say something for the edification of Council, but he couldn't wait till his turn came, and was obliged to leave at 9:30, without having had opportunity to express himself. As he was leaving, he remarked: "I guess I'll let Council alone. At this moment I have decided to cancel my announcement made a few days ago that I would attend every meeting of Council." This said, the Mayor left the room without ceremony, scarcely observed by the Solons who were then wrestling with the motion that Council meet once a week. Mr. Walker voted against the motion, but said he would introduce an ordinance at the next meeting providing for weekly sessions. "I knew this motion wouldn't pass," he said.

Council didn't adjourn till 10 o'clock. Vice President Merz was in the chair, owing to the absence of President Koons. When the session was first convened there were not enough members present to pass ordinances, but Chief Durkin was sent after more. He soon found Messrs. Foster and Sorrick in their seats.

During the meeting the committee on rules reported, and its report was referred to the Ordinance committee. Not many changes in present rules were suggested, but the lines were drawn tighter in those referring to the conduct of members. According to the new dispensation no one will be entitled to recognition unless he addresses the chairman as "Mr. President," and can say no more until recognized; no one shall speak more than twice upon the same subject, unless by special permission; committees are obligated to submit all reports in writing; no ordinances or resolutions are to be passed the same night they are introduced; all resolutions providing for improvements must have attached an estimate of the cost by the Civil Engineer; the clerk shall give Councilmen a written report of such proceedings of previous meetings as particularly affect the Council.

It is also arranged so that Council and the City Solicitor will be in closer touch, and Dr. Hill suggested that all members who wished to obtain information to use in argument should visit the City Building an hour or so prior to the meeting and make such investigations as they deemed necessary. The new rules will also call for meetings of committees half an hour before the regular meeting.

When suffering from racking cough, take a dose of Foley's Honey and Tar. The soreness will be relieved and a warm, grateful feeling and healing of the parts affected will be experienced. A. Warner, J. M. Lader and J. Lamparter & Co.

HOW FOLKS WOULD STARE

If Andrew Carnegie should pay off Akron's indebtedness, put her legislators on their backs and tell them to try again.

If John Grether should greet his acquaintances without his customary smile.

If Art Simms would say that fighting is not elevating and retire from the ring.

If Ed. Terrass should lock up his camera and quit taking pictures.

If Uncle Joe Kendall were to open a pawn shop.

If Dr. L. E. Slater should announce that he, also, intended to run for Congress.
